Introduction of commissioners

Introduction of visitors (4 visitors present)

Pat Cook made motion to approve agenda. Randy Pittman seconded. Motion carried.

Alan Slaven made motion to approve minutes as presented. Theresa Dorsey seconded. Minutes approved as presented.

Old business:

Dr. David Boyle reported on the Walker County Historic Corporation's successful purchase of the half acre lot north of the Marsh House. He advised the Walker County Board of Commissioners are discussing Walker County purchasing the lot from the Walker County Historic Corporation as requested by the Marsh House Board of Trustees and the Walker County Historical Society. The Walker County Historic Preservation Commission sent a letter to the Walker County Board of Commissioners supporting the request.

Resumes were collected from the board of commissioners to be submitted with four-year report in accordance with state certification guidelines. Pat Cook has been out of town and will submit his request to Chairman Culpepper.

Randy Pittman submitted a prototype of Commission letterhead designed by his daughter. In consideration of hybrid school issues, the time frame will be extended. Ms. Pittman's design will be used interim until a permanent letterhead can be developed by Walker County students.

Pat Cook made a motion to use this letterhead until student developed letterhead can be accepted. Alan Slaven seconded. Motion passed.

Renee Griffin made motion to authorize John Culpepper to request Walker County Walker provide name badges, name plates, and recording device for the commission. . Pat Cook seconded. These items are to clarify people and position for guests in meetings and to act as identification when working within the community. The recording device is additionally needed to document the oral histories shared during commission meetings by elder residents of the county to preserve them for future generations. Chairman Culpepper will forward request to Chairman Whitfield.

Thanks, issued to Renee Griffin for article submitted to Walker County Messenger about the Commission and its duties.

Opportunity for commissioners to bring business before commission:

Alan Slaven brought up commissioner be present at various county activities during the holiday season. Renee Griffin, Alan Slaven, and Pat Cook were appointed to develop a way for commission to engage citizens during the holiday season.

Commission discussed a Facebook page and an Instagram with hashtags specific to the commission. Renee Griffin and Theresa Dorsey will learn about social media campaign guidelines for Walker County Government.

The next meeting will be held on November 15, 2021, in the Rossville area with a location to be announced.

Theresa Dorsey reported on Roper Corporation's participation to help beautify the garden here at the Marsh House in addition to other locations around Lafayette. A letter will be sent to Roper Corporation from the commission to thank them for their work.

The floor was open for guests to speak to the commission:

Dr. David Boyle thanked the commission for its work and shared information about the Walker County Historic Society. He then spoke about the Marsh House. Brochures and Friends of the Marsh House literature was shared. He shared the history of the House. He shared fascinating and obscure history of Walker County and how it predates so many surrounding communities. He also shared the history of how the home was saved in secret twice (it was very thrilling) and, how the deed requires it to be a house-museum and belongs to the citizens of the county. The house is on the national registry of historic places. The county puts no money into staffing or tours. It is all volunteer.

Rand Pittman made a motion to adjourn with Alan Slaven seconding. Motion carried. Meeting was adjourned at 7:23pm.
